

PHOENIX

WIRE and CABLE

Phoenix Wire and Cable, a U.S. Corporation, services the exacting needs of the wire and cable marketplace through strategic global sourcing. Phoenix Wire and Cable is the North American commercial arm for a consortium of wire and cable manufacturers comprised of highly efficient facilities producing high quality products. This global sourcing reflects a new concept meeting today's demands and resulting in high performance solutions with competitive procurement costs. Phoenix Wire offers one of the most comprehensive wire and cable product lines in the industry. Our products reflect high quality and competitive pricing without any capacity constraint.

Phoenix Wire and Cable has the capabilities of totally servicing the needs of the utility marketplace through a network of manufacturers sales representatives and world class ISO certified manufacturing facilities located in Asia, Europe, North and South America. Our product line encompasses both bare and insulated aluminum and copper conductors in both single and multi-conductor configurations which meets or exceeds U.S. industry standards.

Our mission is to provide world-class customer service, consistent on-time deliveries and technical support.

Let Phoenix become your partner in servicing your customers' wire and cable needs.